Also, it is very important that you have the tick replay setting enabled.

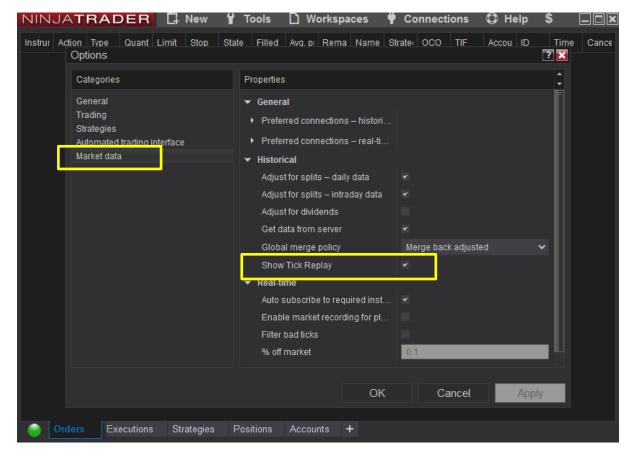

If you don't know if you have it enabled, you can check by going to the Control Panel and clicking on Tools ---> Options ---> Market Data then under the properties on the right side of the window, making sure "Show Tick Replay" is enabled with a tick.

If "Show Tick Replay" is not enabled, then the tools will not work properly. Your chart will be empty.

Here is how to check if you have the "Tick Replay" enabled or not.

You will know if "Show Tick Replay" is enabled when you go to open a chart and you either have the option to enable "Tick Replay" or not.

Try opening a chart and check if you have this option:

Just make sure it is ticked when opening a chart.

If you try to open a chart but you don't see that box, for example, it looks like this (missing the words "Tick Replay), then you need to follow the steps I just mentioned about going to the Control Panel and clicking on Tools ---> Options ---> Market Data then under the properties on the right side of the window, making sure "Show Tick Replay" is enabled with a tick.
